Skills and Abilities

- Inherited Genetic Abilities
  - Source: As a Source, Tipha was capable of channeling strong amounts of Chaos through her body, making her potentially capable of incredible magic beyond a normal mage's level, her lack of training in the subject however limits her use of this power to the degree that mages can use theirs as her was mostly uncontrollable, this genetic condition combined with her lack of magical training lead to seizures that killed her.
    - Prophecies: Tipha's unconcentrated Source powers manifested in speaking in tongues and prophecies.
